Describe a situation where you went above and beyond what was expected * 1 point from you? What was the impact?

I built a website for the Raw Ntr organization (raww.netlify.app) using React.js to showcase its services and programs, like food donation and medical camps. Beyond the basic requirement of a functional site, I crafted a responsive, visually appealing frontend with a flowing marquee highlighting welfare initiatives inspired by NTR's vision. I optimized the UI for seamless navigation and added engaging elements like impactful quotes and donation options to boost user interaction.

Impact: The site effectively promoted Raw Ntr's services, strengthened its online presence, and showcased my frontend skills, earning praise from stakeholders and enhancing my portfolio for future opportunities.
